Link Skill - Elven Blessing Level-up your Mercedes character to transfer Link Skills! You can transfer Link Skills to other characters that will allow you to earn an additional 10% EXP once you reach Lv. 70, and an additional 15% EXP once you reach Lv. 120. There are so many dungeons available that talking about one might feel unjust to others. Make sure your armor is adequate enough as per the stage of the game. Mythic Jaihin is in desperate need of help. When you reach Lv. 130, 160, 200, and 250, you'll gain an additional 4, 6, 8, 10, and 12% EXP respectively. 3. Make sure your armor is all part of the same set (Helm, Outfit, Gloves, and Shoes) as you get set bonuses. Make one of your jewel sets an EXP jewel set and switch to it when training. You must use the same arms TYPE (emblem status is irrelevant). Effects from some EXP coupons cannot stack with each other. You should try to get every class in the same group, as each has its own set of buffs and skills that can help you advance. Powder and Gold leaves are not easily obtainable at higher levels. You can get most of your powder from completing quests and gold leaves from your achievements. After that, you'll have to grind on Netts Pyramid and the Expeditions daily to get more. Rest EXP coupons can be gained if you have been absent from MapleStory for a period of time. It does, however, hold the underlying statistics (so Utgard for example, would keep the exp percent). TIPS: Additional EXP can also be earned while using Night Lord's "Showdown", Demon Slayer's "Demon Cry", and Pirate's "Roll of the Dice" skills. Becoming a MasterCrafter Since this is a relatively new concept, we're still learning new stuff about it. Making several characters and going Mini dungeon With the introduction of Auto-battle, there are many ways you can utilize it to your advantage. A key thing about Auto-battle which the game doesn't tell you is that not only does it work while you are away from your keyboard, but... it works offline as well! Meaning you'll be able to log in on your game, start Auto-battle, then turn off your game and your character will train while you are offline. You'll also need to level it up, but it doesn't have to be lvl32 to progress to lvl34 or higher. Once you understand the structures, the last few mechanics are fairly simple. Unless, of course, one of your party members is insistent on asking if you're a female. Ensure your pet pot settings are set correctly. I recommend setting the auto pot to around 50% depending on your situation. Perhaps this is why it is said that opposites attract. Mini-Dungeon If you're less concerned with EXP and you're in need of more money then doing the Mini dungeons will get you a decent amount a day. It's great because there is hardly any effort needed to send your character to Auto-battle for 2 hours a day (assuming your guild gets you the extra ticket a day). Refer to "How to make the Mesos" for more on doing Mini Dungeons. Mesos One of the main questions that remain in one's head is that what can be done of Mesos. Expedition Currently, there is a Zakum expedition available and you can do it twice a day. Change channels to the first channel and quickly join the expedition to get in with a public group. Daily Dungeon Jewels are rewarded for completing the Daily dungeon. I recommend saving any tickets that won't expire till you're able to clear the dungeon on Very hard or on Hell difficulty. If you are struggling, try doing the dungeon after you've been buffed by a Bishop and/or a Dark Knight to give you more survivability as the boss can hit quite hard. Allows you to upgrade your mythic arm from level 30 to level 40. Stats It's always been difficult to decide which stat will give you the best damage output, whether it be more ATK, more Crit rate, more Crit DMG, or Boss ATK. It is more efficient if you transfer yourself an epic weapon via the storage keeper right from the beginning so that you can 1-hit everything. MapleStory M Guide to Auto Battling Note that while Auto-battling online, if you run out of the currently selected potions, your pet automatically switches to any other type of pot you are holding but it will not do this when you are offline. Also, be aware your character will consume more potions when offline than while you are online. You are given 2 sets of jewel slots to make active whenever you want. To know what's popular, check out the Mu Lung dojo rankings and you'll be able to find out what the people completing the dojo with the fastest times are using (not the normal rankings). I'm guessing it's about level 141. You can only equip 1 per character. Transferring Aran's Link Skills will increase the amount of EXP earned from Combo Orbs. Mu Lung Dojo The Mu Lung Dojo can be automated without using your Auto-battle however, it does take a bit of time. The last floor is floor 51 which only the top percentile of people can reach. The rankings are based on how many floors you defeat and how fast you do it. You are awarded 50 coins for clearing every 10th floor and 15 coins for clearing every other floor. I recommend doing at least 1 good run a week as you get a hefty sum of Mu Lung coins every Monday depending on your rank e.g. if you rank around the top 20% you will get roughly 10k coins to spend at the shop. To assist you in your runs, do it after getting buffed from others. The Extreme Gold Potion from the Monster Park Coin shop will give an additional 10% EXP for 30 minutes. 1. Bishops, for example, have a number of spells that buff you while also increasing your experience benefit. Attacker Effect - Zero Place Zero characters as a Legion member to receive an [Attacker Effect]. Netts Pyramid Go to the Netts from any channel and they will automatically set you up with an open party. It doesn't take too long for a party of 4 to be made. Netts Pyramid gets a bit of EXP, some stars, and has a high drop rate on rings, belts, medals, and badges that are currently the best in the game. You get differing amounts of EXP depending on your level and at levels above 110, you get quite a decent amount of EXP. I recommend saving your spare tickets until at least this level. Bishops and Bowmasters are capable of taking 2 lanes at a time due to their wide AOE skill. I recommend not bothering with Netts Pyramid until you can at least do it on hard at level 80. Once level 100 do it on Chaos for the best rewards. If your phone doesn't have enough memory the app will crash a lot, especially at Zakum raids and Netts. Turn down the display settings and display only your damage and pets. From level 1 to 85, all you'll need to do is a quest. After that, questing will still get you the majority of your EXP for each level, however, you will run out of quests before you get to the next level. You can get the rest of the EXP needed by doing your dailies and your daily hunt. Make sure you do your quests before the daily hunt as some of the monsters you need to kill for the quest will be on the daily hunt. E.g. If your Crit DMG is 50% and your crit rate is 10% then 1% Crit rate is worth 5% Crit DMG. The most favorite dungeon of ours has to be the Star Field dungeon. Kinship Ring You can earn an additional 10% EXP by having this item equipped. If you equip the 'Prepared Pendant of the Spirit', you can earn 30% additional EXP immediately upon equipping the item. However, the title is self-explanatory. For my account, I've made a character for each of the 5 explorers and I've found that while on their 3rd job, Dark Knights are the most efficient for this method. With their Charge move, they continuously move forward as well as push group the mobs together, in this way it doesn't matter if the monsters don't die in 1 hit. Equipment How to earn additional EXP using Equip items. Check MapleStory private server list, to begin with. Purchase some more random rare armor as fuse fodder and level it up. While Auto-battling set your character to use only one AOE skill. A skill that has less than 60MP peruse and can 1 hit kill everything. This allows the character to generate and pick up potions more than the character consumes, making the character self-sustainable. Jewels Jewels can be obtained by completing the daily dungeon. Isn't that cool? When it comes to tossing up between Crit rate % or Crit DMG %: Average damage output = Crit rate % X Crit DMG % Crit rate % is almost always smaller than Crit DMG %, therefore the Crit rate is more valuable than Crit damage by a factor of how much smaller it is. What to buy Rather, purchase uncommon shoulders, a cape, and a belt, and level them up. If you are in a party with others who have a Kinship Ring equipped, you will gain a 5% additional EXP per party member (up to +30%). You'll have more money at your disposal to feed into your main if you have more alternates. Trade Station Stalk the markets and look for under-priced equipment then resell them for more. It is slow going for me so far and I have yet to have much success, probably because I can't help but overprice things xD. The question remains a subjective choice. Make it finer Refining is the method of converting your equipment to empress gear by using empress stones (obtained from contaminated empress expeditions). Snake is a fantastic map for Mesos, and it's also perfect for leveling until you've SP'd your gear to level 80. This long route will save you money; it will cost you 3 million in total fuse costs for all three, which is possibly the cost of an awesome cape on the ts. The majority of the time, though, you'll want to refine after you've completely exalted. Teamwork makes the dream work This is something I can't emphasize sufficiently. What are the exp buffs? Half Game It comes as no surprise that when it comes to a mid-point of the game. 10-70 Level: Until or unless your position in the game already does not have a good guild you know a friend who can leech for you (update 9/13: due to the shift in CP criteria for non-sf maps, leeching is far more difficult than questing), questing will be your primary source of EXP until about level 70-80. This depends on the active participants taking part in the game. Each time you reach 50 combos, a Combo Orb will be created, which you can claim for bonus EXP, and the higher your combos, the more EXP you can earn. You can only use epic or higher star forcing. Pendant of the Spirit The Pendant of the Spirit is a pendant that grants additional EXP the longer you have it equipped. Also, learn to collaborate. Don't fret if you die as you don't lose EXP or anything if you do, you only need to wait for the 10 seconds respawn time. This opens up a few avenues, especially for those that can't spend too much time playing the game. Elite Dungeon This dungeon rewards you with equipment, powder, and a bit of EXP when cleared. It takes a bit of time if you are going to solo it so try joining a public group on the first channel (fewer people are wanting to do it at levels below 100). Sell off the equipment and store the powder. Use your alternate characters to help you sell the equipment. I recommend saving your spare tickets until you're level 105 or 115. Avoid the lone wolf tantrums if you want to level up quickly. When is the next Maple Story M Update Coming? Indeed, I credit much of my success (not boasting, only stating the cold hard truth) to hours of auto-battling, because I wouldn't have had half as much experience if it hadn't been for it. Each good exalt raises your maximum level by two levels (5 exalts total). Link Skill - Combo Kill Blessing Level-up your Aran character to transfer Link Skills! You can transfer Link Skills to other characters that will allow you to permanently earn an additional 400% Combo Kill Orb EXP once you reach Lv. 70, and an additional 650% EXP once you reach Lv. 120. The jewels that are recommended for getting the highest possible damage output are the Boss ATK% increase (purple), PHY DMG% increase, and MAG DMG% increase. Although you can still search beyond these thresholds, it will become increasingly difficult, and there are better options: The high meso rate would drop on star force maps. However, you cannot use 2 EXP Accumulation Potions at the same time (but can be used alongside other effect potions). MapleStory M Guide (The Beginning) Unlike the PC version, you should follow the guideline as this is the fastest and most profitable way to level up. You'll notice they award you with quite a many teleport rocks for finishing each quest, but note that they eventually do run out if you use them for every little thing so it might be wiser to use them only for medium to long-distance travels. For skill point allocations, I wouldn't worry too much about allocating incorrectly until your fourth job as getting to level 100 will only take a few days. When deciding which skill to allocate your SP to, think about what you will spend the majority of the time doing. If you are going to spend it mostly being AFK or offline then I recommend leveling up your passive skills first. When exalt stones are obtained from occurrences, you can use them, but they have a lower success rate than weapons. Hard Zakum is exactly as stated... 'Hard'. There is a high failure rate and therefore it is frowned upon for those that have yet to invest heavily into their gear to do this dungeon as you will provide a little contribution. Also, exiting the dungeon before it is completed is frowned upon. You are given 10 minutes to defeat Zakum who deals roughly double the damage of normal Zakum. The much-coveted drop for doing this dungeon is the unique Zakum helm which also very rarely drops. Other Dailies I've noted a few quick things you can do every day to get some small bonuses Simply logging in for consecutive days will get you some good rewards, particularly on day 8 with unique equipment that can sell for several million Mesos Create a party for 10k Use Fever for 10k Use 10 pots for 10k Jump in and out of Mu Lung dojo for 10k Find 2 rare pieces of equipment and get a 30-minute recharge. If you can't find it you can either Download them or auto-complete it for 50k Recharge Auto-battle (you can recharge to a maximum of 360minutes Click on guild attendance, claim attendance rewards and use guild skills. MapleStory M Guide for Dungeons and Dailies Dungeons Every day you are given 3 tickets for the Daily dungeon, Elite dungeon, Mini dungeon, Mu Lung Dojo, and Netts Pyramid. You can get more when you use all 3 of your tickets or from your guild attendance claim. One of your highest priorities, if not the highest priority for this game is to get as rich as possible. Only with money will you be able to get the best gear and get further in the game than your loser friends' peers. Weapon or armor? (Your first hyper skill). Absolutely yes. The game masters have been especially generous recently, and exp buffs have been so plentiful that you'd be forgiven if you mistook them for your HP potions. Whilst it is a crime to ignore all the other stars. The best thing to do is just to go around clicking everything to familiarise yourself with it all as there are a few hidden benefits such as the quest theme rewards (challenges - scroll - theme rewards). For a level 50 character, they will get you roughly 200k per 2 hrs. At 60 they will get you 250k, at 70, 350k, and at 80 you'll be getting over 400k for every 2-hour run. My Bowmaster at level 110 currently gets me more than 800k. E.g. Dark Knights with their charge move or for Bishops their map clearing attack Genesis. Leveling Guide When you first start MapleStory M, you'll notice that leveling up seems so easy, but then once you make it to level 100, going up in levels becomes significantly slower. Hopefully, by reading this guide you'll eventually be able to grind your way up further. It is extremely costly and should be saved for last in terms of advancement after you've completed a significant portion of your upgrades. Daily Hunt This is not a dungeon, however, you can do a lot of your daily hunt in the Mini dungeon. The daily hunt gets you a decent amount of EXP and at higher levels, the EXP given becomes quite significant. This isn't my favorite method, but I recommend doing this at some stage as it helps you to get familiar with all the equipment so you'll be able to spot what's good and what's not. If you need more slots to sell equipment with, you'll have to make more characters and get them to 35 and make use of good old' Mr. Kim the storage keeper. Field Hunting Try to look for hunting zones that have turned into Burning Fields because they have been untouched by Maplers for a long time. Do you know when to use your experience boosts? Being in a group not only gives you more experience points, but it also gives you experience points when your party members get killed. (Alternatively, you can get them to 20 and start Auto-battling in a random area to get to 25). Leveling to 25 with quests will only take you maybe half an hour. Party Buff Party buff, a boon that's unique to party play! Form a party with a character with the Explorer job "Bishop" and have them use their Holy Symbol ability to buff you with an additional 50% EXP. Distancing of paths: On this level, you must decide whether you want to make this character your main or move on to the next alt. TIPS: You can have EXP coupons, Extreme Gold Potions and EXP Accumulation Potions at the same time and they will stack with each other. EXP Coupons EXP coupons allow you to earn additional amounts of EXP from hunting monsters, and can be earned in a variety of ways. 1. The recent update came about a year ago, this phone game or the pocket version of MapleStory has been a great success. The game is made up of many dungeons. Learn more in the Rune Maple Guide! TIPS: Rune buff durations will increase if you transfer Evan's Link Skills. Read More Leveling Guide Here In terms of power leveling a new character, there are no restrictions on the level difference. So you could get a level 100 plus friend to party with your level 20 character, train in any location, and gain the same amount of EXP. Just make sure you disable resting party members can't get EXP. Stars over here literally stand for dungeons.
